The economics program at Georgia Southern University offers two different four-year bachelor’s degrees and one specialization designed to give students a broad knowledge of economics in order to provide a logical structure used in understanding the big picture while emphasizing logical thought and problem-solving skills. In addition, the Department of Economics offers a Master of Science in Applied Economics as well as a Graduate Certificate in Applied Economics.

BA in Economics

With a strong background in liberal arts, graduates of this program are well-prepared for further study or careers in the social sciences—economics, law, political science, or sociology—as well as in business, journalism, and public administration.

Major Courses

ECON 3131 - Intermediate Macroeconomics
ECON 3231 - Intermediate Microeconomics
ECON 4131 - Applied Econometrics
7 Additional Courses Required in ECON

BBA in Economics

This major is designed to give students a broad knowledge of the field of economics to provide a foundation for professional careers in business and industry or for graduate training in economics.

Major Courses

BUSA 3131 - Business Statistics
ECON 3231 - International Microeconomics
FINC 3131 - Principles of Corporate Finance
MGNT 3130 - Principles of Management
MGNT 3430 - Operations Management
MKTG 3131 - Principles of Marketing
5 Additional Courses Required in ECON

Emphasis in International Business

Students who major in economics may choose an emphasis in international business. This curriculum prepares students to deal with the problems and opportunities of international trade, international finance, global economic markets, and multi-national organizations. This emphasis only available for BBA degree.

ECON 3131 - Intermediate Macroeconomics
ECON 3132 - International Trade
ECON 3231 - International Microeconomics
ECON 3232 - International Macroeconomics
2 Additional Approved Courses Required

*Core coursework not included.
Areas of specialization may require additional courses.